

Code of Conduct

effective 1 May 2014

The Code is published under the Charter, Byelaws and Regulations approved under the Grant of Royal Charter dated 22 July 2005.

This Code has been subsequently amended at the Annual General Meetings held on 18 November 2006, 22 November 2008, 21 November 2009, 30 October 2010 and 16 November 2013. This edition of the Code became effective from 1 May 2014.

Introductory Note (The Introductory Note does not constitute part of the Code).

The object of this Code of Conduct is to promote the standard of conduct, or self-discipline, required of members of the Institute in the interest of the public. It aims to ensure:

- (a) that members conduct themselves in a manner consistent with that of a professional person;
- (b) that one member does not gain an unfair advantage over another;
- (c) that members do not misrepresent themselves or the Institute; and
- (d) that the public may rely upon the members for their integrity and professionalism.

The Institute will not normally use its disciplinary procedures to determine allegations of incompetence or negligence.

All members are governed by the Charter, Byelaws and Regulations of the Institute and supplementary regulations as may be in force from time to time.

All members must adhere to the Code of Conduct at all times and must endeavour to secure the widest possible acceptance of the Code by all other members. When it is alleged that any member has acted in breach of the Code, the Conduct Committee shall inform the member of their right to explain the circumstances. If the Conduct Committee considers that there is a case to answer, it shall investigate the complaint, consider the evidence at a formal Hearing, and make its decisions. Decisions of the Conduct Committee take immediate effect.

The member and complainant have the right to attend the member's formal Hearing in accordance with the Conduct and Disciplinary Procedures of the Institute.

The member and complainant have the right of appeal via an independent tribunal, except when the Conduct Committee has determined that there was no case to answer.

The Executive Board shall receive reports of the Conduct Committee detailing its decisions.

For the purposes of this Code, the Institute may hold a member acting through a body corporate of which he is a director or a member, responsible for the acts of that body and such a member shall so conduct the business of that body to comply with the Code of Conduct.

Definitions are detailed on page two of this document and fall within the Code.
