

Welcome . . . .

From the Centre Chairman
William Cotter MCIAT

Important Update on the Architectural Technologists Register (ATR)

Progress is ongoing and the Register will now operate in a robust manner so that the Department and the Minister may make the necessary changes to the primary legislation to establish the Register as a Statutory Body, enabling Registered Architectural Technologists to act as Design and Assigned Certifiers under BC(A)R 2014.

ATR

We have identified a number of professionals in the construction industry who are willing to accept positions on the various boards required to administer the ATR. In total, we require 17 non-Architectural Technologists for these positions. Members are again asked to assist the process in a positive manner by identifying colleagues and acquaintances who are not Architectural Technologists yet hold relatively senior positions in the construction industry and who would be willing to accept a position on one of the four Boards / Committees as below.

Board / Committee	AT Members*	Non-AT Members	Chair (Minister's appointee)
Admissions Board	3	4	1
Technical Assessment Board	3	4	1
Appeals Board	2	3	1
Conduct Committee	5	6	1
Totals	13	17	4
*Note	The AT Board members will be appointed from the Chartered Membership of CIAT
Note	The non-AT members, although not stipulated in the Building Control Act 2007, should be other professionals or persons who are familiar with the Construction Industry

The number of Architectural Technologists registering on the ATR is increasing slowly, along with persons registering their Intention to Register. It is essential that all CIAT members prevail upon their unaffiliated Architectural Technologist colleagues to assist CIAT in gaining the appropriate recognition for our profession by joining CIAT or registering on the ATR. Visit the website; www.architecturaltechnologistsregister.ie.

Please visit our website, ciat.ie for further information on the joining or qualifying process by clicking on the following links: Join CIAT Professional Assessment

AT Awards 2019 Special synopsis and photos by Patrick Clarke MCIAT (elected ROI Centre Representative)

Friday the 13th maybe unlucky for some, but not for the winners of the AT Awards 2019 which took place in Shoreditch, East London. It was a hot sunny day in London and, in contrast, the award ceremony was held in the cool setting of the Village Underground. This is last time the award ceremony will be held here, as the event is moving to an exciting new venue next year. The event started at 3pm with refreshments and entertainment by a three piece jazz band. The venues red bricked arches provided an excellent backdrop to meet old and new colleagues, as well as peruse the displays of the Finalist's projects.

The host of the event was once again popular television presenter, Matt Allwright. He presented the five awards with charm, professionalism and sharp wit, a true seasoned professional. The Winner of the Award for Excellence in Architectural Technology was 'Beacon of Light' by Faulkner Browns Architects, their second consecutive win in the category. However, a runner up in this category was 'Hawley Mews' by healycornelius design ltd., a project that our very own Republic of Ireland Centre Councillor and Education Officer, Michael O'Keeffe MCIAT, was involved in. The Award for Chartered Architectural Technologist of the Year went to Oliver Henshall MCIAT. Other award winners can be viewed on the CIAT website and will be covered in the latest issue of AT Journal.

From an Irish perspective, it was an excellent day where three Irish educational establishments received Certificates of Accreditation. They were; Technological University, Dublin (formerly DIT), Galway-Mayo Institute of Technology and Ulster University. The people who made that possible for their educational institutions (Malachy Mathews ACIAT, Irene Hayden MCIAT, David Comiskey MCIAT), should be very proud of these achievements.

From the evidence on display at the awards event the discipline of Architectural Technology is at a very high standard. There is work to do to receive professional recognition at home, but the future outlook for AT is very positive.

Technical Sub-Committee Update

The Technical Sub-committee continues to meet monthly under the Chairmanship of Gillian Fletcher MCIAT. Below are some updates:

- The Committee made a submission on the draft amendments to Technical Guidance Document B - Fire Safety (2009) which was published for Public Consultation.
- A circular titled "Impact of a 'no-deal' Brexit on construction products" which was issued by the Department of Housing, Planning and Local Government, has been circulated to the Irish membership via the AT Weekly.

Our Technical Sub-Committee would be grateful for any contributions from the general membership when we are working on future submissions or if any member becomes aware of difficult interpretations of legislation, changes to legislation or new legislation relating to the construction industry, please advise the Technical Sub-Committee.

CPD Update with Christophe Krief (CPD Officer)

Within the Institute's Code of Conduct, it states that the "members (excluding student members) shall keep themselves informed of current practices and developments appropriate to the type and level of their responsibilities<sup>1</sup>; and be able to provide evidence that they have complied with the requirements for continuing professional development (CPD) as published by the Institute from time to time".

The Institute has also set the requirement that such members have a professional obligation to undertake a minimum of 35 hours CPD in any one year, May to April. This is for the members' own benefit, and for that of the Institute, and is embodied within CIAT's Code of Conduct. Members should also, where possible and appropriate, support the professional development of fellow members and potential members of their profession.

It is possible to record your CPD online via the CIAT website as follows:

1. Login to your profile on the CIAT website
2. Under 'My CIAT', select 'My CPD'
3. Select 'Add New Record', input the required / optional information and upload any evidence (Certificate of Attendance etc.)
4. Select 'Submit' to record the CPD activity

Your outstanding and completed CPD hours for the year are displayed on a pie-chart graphic on the 'My CPD' page.

Schools and colleges are now back for the 2019/2020 term. It was great to see Technological University, Dublin (formerly DIT) and Galway-Mayo I.T. receive CIAT Accreditation for their Honours degree level Architectural Technology programmes.

Congratulations to Luke O'Keeffe, Year 3 student at Waterford Institute of Technology and Ryan Dempsey from Technological University, Dublin who were Ireland's first winners at the Worldskills Competition in Building Information Modelling. The BIM competition was held in the Future Skills Zone, a specialised zone for showcases and competitions in skills, which are in demand in the era of high-tech production and digital economy

Together with the Institute's aspirATIOn Group, we hope to raise awareness of the discipline of Architectural Technology in secondary schools. If you become aware of any career guidance events in your local area where CIAT may participate, please do not hesitate to contact a member of the Republic of Ireland Centre Committee.
